

Regarding the "Do Not Call" Rule, the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my time at home three-fold by greatly lessening the number of unwanted solicitor calls I receive in the evening and on weekends. I used to receive up to 6 calls per week and now only receive about 1 per month.

Life in general is very stressful these days and this rule has served the taxpayers/residents of Indiana extremely well by giving them less opportunity to be "hassled" in their own homes on their own time.

Please respect that and keep this law/rule in place.

Thank you.
